Notes:

(1) For the 2002/03 school year, one independent school with 17 Aboriginal students in 2001/02 and 25 in 2003/04 has been removed from the Independent Aboriginal total count (due to data submission error, the entire student population was mistakenly reported as Aboriginal).

(2) An Aboriginal student is a student who has self-identified as being of Aboriginal ancestry on Form 1701(First Nations: status and non-status, Metis and Inuit). Status Indians are Aboriginal people who meet the requirements of the Indian Act and who are registered under the Act. Beginning in 2003/04 school year a student is considered Aboriginal if s/he has self-declared any time in the period 2003/04 forward. Before 2003/04, students were considered Aboriginal in any given year only if they self-declared in September 30 enrolment in that year.

Notes:

(1) For the 2002/03 school year, one independent school with 17 Aboriginal students in 2001/02 and 25 in 2003/04 has been removed from the Independent Aboriginal total count (due to data submission error, the entire student population was mistakenly reported as Aboriginal).

(2) An Aboriginal student is a student who has self-identified as being of Aboriginal ancestry on Form 1701(First Nations: status and non-status, Metis and Inuit). Status Indians are Aboriginal people who meet the requirements of the Indian Act and who are registered under the Act. Beginning in 2003/04 school year a student is considered Aboriginal if s/he has self-declared any time in the period 2003/04 forward. Before 2003/04, students were considered Aboriginal in any given year only if they self-declared in September 30 enrolment in that year.

(2) Grade 3 students did not participate in the 2001/02 satisfaction survey.

(3) Results are based on the question, "At school, do you get exercise (for example, physical activity or sports)?" for students, and "At school, does your child get exercise (for example, physical activity or sports)?" for parents. No physical activity question was asked for staff.

Notes:

(1) PISA is administered every three years.

(2) Students proficient at Level 3 can execute clearly described procedures, including those that require sequential decisions. They can select and apply simple problem-solving strategies. Students at this level can interpret and use representations based on different information sources and reason directly from them. They can develop short communications reporting their interpretations, results, and reasoning.

(3) Students proficient at Level 4 can work effectively with explicit models for complex concrete situations that may involve constraints or call for making assumptions. They can select and integrate different representations, including symbolic ones, linking them directly to aspects of real-world situations. Students at this level can utilise well-developed skills and reason flexibly, with some insight, in these contexts. They can construct and communicate explanations and arguments based on their interpretations, arguments, and actions.

(4) Students proficient at Level 5 can develop and work with models for complex situations, identifying constraints and specifying assumptions. They can select, compare, and evaluate appropriate problem solving strategies for dealing with complex problems related to these models. Students at this level can work strategically using broad, well-developed thinking and reasoning skills, appropriate linked representations, symbolic and formal characterisations, and insight pertaining to these situations. They can reflect on their actions and formulate and communicate their interpretations and reasoning.

(5) Students proficient at Level 6 can conceptualise, generalise, and utilise information based on their investigations, and modelling of complex problem situations. They can link different information sources and representations and flexibly translate among them. Students at this level are capable of advanced mathematical thinking and reasoning. These students can apply this insight and understanding along with a mastery of symbolic and formal mathematical operations and relationships to develop new approaches and strategies for attacking novel situations. Students at this level can formulate and precisely communicate their actions and reflections regarding their findings, interpretations, arguments, and the appropriateness of these to the original situations.

(2) The boxes represent that if the test were administered again, the average scores within a jurisdiction would fall within this range 95% of the time; therefore, British Columbia is not necessarily different from Quebec but British Columbia is different from Newfoundland.

(3) Vertical lines indicate the average score for the jurisdiction.

(4) Average score for each jurisdiction is the combined mathematics score .
